EX-GOVERNOR UTTER

Spoke to Fial Y. M. C. A. Sunday Meeting for the Season—Special Music.

The closing one for the season of the Y. M. C. A. afternoon meetings was held on Sunday at 3.30, with a large audience assembled for the special programme arranged, the meeting being for both men and women. As Sunday was Mother's day a vase of the emblematic carnations was placed on a stand on the platform and those participating in the interesting service wore the flower. Ex-Gov. George H. Utter of Rhode Island was the speaker of the afternoon.

President Amos A. Browning presided, after the opening hymn, Count Your Blessings, in which General Secretary Frank H. Merrill led the singing, the quartette of the Second Congregational church of New London was heard in the selection, No Shadow Yonder, from Gaul's Holy City, sung with fine balance and harmony. It was the first time the quartette had been heard in Norwich and their singing was warmly appreciated. The quartette includes Mrs. Frank H. Merrill, soprano; Mrs. Lillian Munger, contralto; E. B. Seaman, bass; and Ellen Learned, tenor and director. F. W. Lester was the accompanist.

After prayer by Rev. C. H. Ricketts, who was a college mate of ex-Governor Utter, Mr. Seaman's rich voice was heard with fine effect in the solo, Just For Today.

Announcements of the Brown Glee club coming on of the annual public anniversary service of the association next Sunday evening at the Second Congregational church were made by President Browning, after which the church of New London Lippitt to welcome ex-Governor Utter to this city and introduce him to the audience. This Mayor Lippitt did in a most appropriate manner, referring to the recognized and proven value of the organization as an asset of any city.

At the speaker of the afternoon ex-Governor Utter was received with applause as he rose to speak and the same compliment was accorded at the end of the strongly practical address which was listened to with close attention by all present. He said that every individual in the kingdom of God was the general theme, the speaker affirming that everyone who has come to know Jesus Christ is of service in His kingdom and is accountable for the things that he can do. All are willing, he said, to be the big driving wheel, and some of us are ready to be the little pin without which the whole train may come to a stop. God can use every man and the kingdom will go forward only as you and I push it. Of each will judgment be required if he did the thing his conscience told him to do. If the call comes, will you take the words of the old psalmist and say: "Here am I; send me."

Gladsome Night, sung from Dudley Buck's Golden Legend, sung unconquered by all present, was the concluding number before the benediction by Rev. Mr. Ricketts.

OBSERVANCE OF MOTHER'S DAY

Special Sermons Preached by Rev. Dr. M. S. Kaufman at Methodist Church and Rev. J. F. Cobb at Universalist Church.

Mother's Sunday was observed and a beautiful sermon preached by Rev. Dr. M. S. Kaufman at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. Nearly all members of the large congregation wore white carnations in honor of mother.

Text: When Jesus therefore saw His mother and the disciple standing by whom He loved, He saith unto His mother Woman, behold thy Son. Then said He to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her to his own home, John xix:26-27.

Text: Mother's Day: Its Power and Pathos. He said in part: There is not a scene in the entire Bible more significant, touching and exquisitely beautiful than the one here given us. Jesus, the Son of God, always treated woman with utmost respect and courteous consideration. Toward His mother, tender, chivalrous, affectionate. He believed in woman's capacity for godliness and exalted nobleness of character. The woman at Jacob's well, the one who anointed His feet, Mary and Martha in the little home at Bethany, and other women received such considerate attention from Him as to demonstrate His high regard for womanhood. And then in the very act of dying the most painful of deaths upon the cruel cross—dying to save a world—He has time to call for His own heartbroken mother and entrust her to the care of His best earthly friend. What a noble tribute to His mother that tender and beautiful recognition of her from the cross of His crucifixion!

Notes of such a charming idea of course it must have had a Christian origin. It was suggested and inspired by the Spirit of Christ. What a happy thought! The mother, the emblem of mother-love, the white carnation, because of its purity, fragrance and endurance! That the general observance of Mother's day will become increasingly popular and be securely established. No other class of persons in this world are so truly esteemed—so highly honored, so deeply loved as mothers. It is the duty of every man, woman and child to honor their mothers. The thought of the whole Christian world observing in fitting ways Mother's day!

It suggests power. The mightiest forces of Nature are silent ones. Such as gravitation, electricity, light. So is it in the realm of the social, moral and spiritual. Next to the power of Almighty God, the quietest and most powerful force is the power of mother-love. Nothing else we know, approximates so nearly to the love and power of God Himself. The most important duty of many of history, as a rule, are demonstrations of this truth. It has been significantly said: Before God undertakes to make a great man, He first makes a great mother. This is forcibly illustrated in the life of Susannah Wesley—one of the choicest of mothers—almost adored by her two powerful sons, John and Charles. It made his success possible. The home where the mother is queen is the most important organ in life, and the mother's faith in her children is constant and inspiring. With all the honor that is due to the mother, there is no one who is more generally neglected or taken advantage of but this is a time for a change of attitude and for the fact that is due to the mother's day, when all can unite in honoring their mothers, those who are so fortunate to have mothers living to do so in the flesh, and others in the spirit. Repose in the fact that you can assist in the movement to honor the greatest and the noblest heroines—the mothers.

The Nobles Heroines—Mothers.

In observance of Mother's Sunday, the sermon by Rev. Joseph F. Cobb at the morning service at the Universalist church was upon the topic, The Nobles Heroines—Mothers. From the text John iii:3, "And the mother of Jesus was there." Referring in opening to the influence of the mother of Jesus as shown by the feminine qualities of His character, gracefulness, gentleness and sympathy. Rev. Mr. Cobb said in part:

Jesus placed a high worth upon womanhood. He had great strength and tenderness and reverence for women, and attached high dignity to their position, and wherever the name of Jesus' mother is spoken there goes with it a reverence from the fact that she was the mother of our Lord. No hero or heroine deserves any greater honors than the mother, one of God's agents in the divine plan of the universe. Yet it is a strange fact that our mothers the moulders of the world should get so little credit and should be so seldom mentioned among the great men of the world. The mother is the successful son; the mother is but a round in the ladder upon which he has climbed. Yet it was that sweet, pathetic figure in the background that made his success possible. The home where the mother is queen is the most important organ in life, and the mother's faith in her children is constant and inspiring. With all the honor that is due to the mother, there is no one who is more generally neglected or taken advantage of but this is a time for a change of attitude and for the fact that is due to the mother's day, when all can unite in honoring their mothers, those who are so fortunate to have mothers living to do so in the flesh, and others in the spirit. Repose in the fact that you can assist in the movement to honor the greatest and the noblest heroines—the mothers.

The other was painted with Devoe, and took only 15% gallons. The "leading paint" referred to is adulterated 15%, but is sold at the same price as Devoe.
